

The tasks of student representatives

Student Parliament (StuPa)

The Student Parliament at TH Rosenheim is an association made up of those students interested in being actively involved in university politics and in making student life attractive and diverse through a wide variety of activities.

The "StuPies" offer all prospective and existing students first-hand information about studying at the TH and everything that is worth knowing about studying and living in the Rosenheim region. The StuPa organises introductory events and information evenings for freshers, for example. Its leisure activities and cultural offers include university parties, the student radio "Radio Leporello", the university cinema of IG films, the Christmas market and cultural information about concerts and exhibitions.

The StuPa is made up of students at TH Rosenheim who are selected annually in the university elections. The resulting holders of the positions elect the chairperson, the speakers council and the budget representative in their first meeting. All university students are eligible for these positions.

In addition to the StuPa, the university also has a range of student associations, such as greenING, TWV Teutonia, CHTR, smd, Queer.

Semester speakers

The semester speakers are the first people to go to if you have any problems in the semester. If the profs go through the material too quickly, for example, the lecture notes aren't available, you need to take mock exams or organise tutorials. The semester speakers collect the feedback during the semester and either address the professor, the departmental student organisation (see below) or the course assistant (if there is one).

Departmental student organisation (representatives)

The departmental student organisation representatives of a faculty are 7-8 members of the respective faculty. The department speaker is the first member of the faculty council (see below).

The departmental student organisation representatives are the contact point at a faculty throughout all semesters. They support the faculty councils in decision making and pass on ideas and suggestions from the students in a faculty to the faculty councils.

Faculty councils

The faculty councils consist of the two students from the departmental student organisation who received the most votes from the students in the university election.

At the same time, the first student representative of the faculty council is the department speaker of the departmental student organisation. The term of office for faculty councils is 1 year.

On account of the role as department speaker, this person is obliged to call the department meeting and coordinate the semester speakers.

Departmental student organisation council

The departmental student organisation council is made up of the faculty councils from all faculties.
